

APST Workshop for
Wood Anatomy and Timber Identification 2024

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the ENFSI APST Working Group, the Thuenen Institute in Hamburg is hosting the Workshop for Wood Anatomy and Timber Identification from August 19.-23., 2024.

The workshop will present practical techniques for macroscopic and microscopic wood identification and train the participants in the use of databases and programmes for computer-assisted wood identification. It is planned to organize at least one half day in conference style to allow presentations and scientific exchange by participants. We offer the possibility to prepare short presentations (10 min) about their own field of work which will be summarized in the form of abstracts in a small conference volume/seminar volume.

The workshop starts Monday at 9:00 AM and ends at Friday 1:00 PM.

For accommodation rooms can be reserved for the period of August 18 (Sunday) to 24 (Saturday) 2024 at the Hotel ALT LOHBRÜGGER HOF which is in walking distance to the venue. Rooms must be confirmed by each individual until March 31 of 2024 including your arrival and departure dates. After this date the room allotment will expire.

For the workshop no participation fee will be charged. However, small contribution of approx. 120 € per person is expected to help cover the cost of the workshop. It should be transferred to the APST account as detailed in the invoice you receive after registration. Please provide also your contact data asked for in the invoice.

Kindly register for the workshop not later than March 31. 2024 at volker.haag@thuenen.de and/or andreas.hellmann@bka.bund.de.
